North American's web-based illustration software tip sheet

What is it?

- Illustrations are web-based
 - Located on iPipeline's platform for iGO® users
 - As well as northamericancompany.com
- Integrates with SimpleSubmit® e-app
 - One stop shop for agents to do business with us!
 - Quote information flows over to SimpleSubmit® e-app preventing duplication of entry
 - Web illustrations can be electronically signed using SimpleSubmit® e-app
 - On average, our electronic process is weeks quicker from submission to commission¹
- Distribution flexibility:
 - Distributions can be illustrated monthly, quarterly, semi-annually, and annually
 - Ability to illustrate distribution repayments or pay loan interest in cash
 - Distributions can be illustrated to age 120
 - You may switch between loan types in the same illustration
- Solves:
 - Double solve for income. Ex: if you want to illustrate distributions for a child going to college and supplement your client's retirement all in one illustration, this can be accomplished with one solve.
 - Minimum initial & later reduced death benefit: Ex: if you wanted to pay premium for 10 years, this solve will calculate the lowest minimum death benefit at issue, followed by a lower minimum death benefit after premium payments cease.
 - Minimum death benefit & premium: Ex: when you have a specific distribution amount you want to target, this solve will determine the premium amount and minimum death benefit needed.
 - Minimum corridor death benefit: will calculate the minimum death benefit to meet the corridor death benefit value at issue. The user will specify a premium. This solve will enable the maximum number of commission options.

What's improved?

- Enhanced illustration output:
 - Added color, graphics, removed unnecessary language, and improved readability to make the illustration output more attractive, understandable, and several pages shorter
 - Supplemental reports are now easily selected and placed at the end of your illustration
 - Tabular detail pages have a distribution type column and show the beginning/end of year age to more clearly illustrate the actual type and timing of distributions
